

Nikolay Bronskiy

Full Stack Senior Developer (Frontend + Backend)

Actively looking for a new project.

I estimate my programming level as Senior. I'm very keen on technology, so I'm developing my skills really fast. Interested in new projects or remote jobs.

EXPERIENCE

Upwork.com, Leiria, Portugal — Freelancer

MAY 2018 - PRESENT

I got enough skills from one time projects and started to work on another freelancer platform on hourly rate basis for different companies from US, Canada and Europe. Now I'm actively improving my frontend skills and trying to use modern JS frameworks in each of my new projects.

Freelancer.com, Moscow, Russia — Freelancer

NOV 2015 - MAY 2018

I started to work as a freelancer to get more practice experience in web development, to try new technologies and tools, to improve English language skills. I was creating and managing websites and web apps for small and middle business companies. Mostly based on fixed price one time projects.

Solvelight Robotics LLC, New York, USA — Web Developer(remote)

DEC 2014 - DEC 2015

I created solvelight.com e-commerce website from scratch. It was built with ExpressionEngine 2 CMS that is based on Codeigniter framework. The website has been integrated with a custom CRM system and warehouse system, Mailchimp newsletter, preferred US payment systems etc.

MIAP LLC, Moscow, Russia — Web Developer

JAN 2011 - NOV 2014

MIAP is an ordinary non-IT company in Moscow. I've started to work there to get some experience during my 4th course in the University. I was creating websites for this company, creating branding, managing exhibitions, ordering PC components to build PCs from it and installing necessary software on it, managing internal and external servers(based on Windows and Linux) and network, even installing secure cams in the company's office and warehouse. Mostly I was a web-developer there.
